

Truman Cabinet Aide a Spy!

NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK — On Oct. 30 we printed here a wonderfully human story written by an ex-teacher who related some loving remembrances of the "old hometown" and of her realization, now, that her home folks were so gentle, kind and helpful.

"This morning we have another letter with the same theme, expressions of gratitude to neighbors, friends and relatives for kindness in time of need. Read further. It will make your heart tingle."

"The Editor
"The Dixon Evening Telegraph
"Dear Sir:

"The Sept. 14 issue of your paper tells of an accident in which our family of six was involved. There was and still is so much of human kindness following this event that we are writing you in order that all those doors of good will may know we appreciate what has been done for us.

"Our neighbors came in and did the laundry, cleaned the house, canned tomatoes, peaches and applesauce."

"They dug our potatoes, sweet potatoes, gladioli and other flowering bulbs."

"They picked our pumpkins and came night and morning for more than six weeks to care for the goats and cat."

"MANY RELATIVES and friends came to watch over us in the Sycamore hospital in shifts for two weeks."

"Many expressions of love and helpfulness have come to us. Some of you gave your blood and we yet have offers of helpfulness in caring for the children, furnishing transportation or performing any task that will aid us."

"YOU CAN'T KNOW the terrific boost that came from knowing that folks thought we were needed and that this is where we belong."

"HOW MUCH THE prayers, good thoughts, deeds and many, many gifts have lifted us! We are grateful and thankful that all six of us are back among you. And we have more to be thankful for this Thanksgiving season than anyone we know."

"The God of healing is still working. His wonders are in our midst and we thank Him and all those of you who have held us up to Him in your thoughts and prayers."

Sincerely,

Neva and Mead Kelsey

LAST LINE: That sort of restores your faith, doesn't it?

Retired Dixon Businessman Dies Thursday

Emery D. Countryman, 82, a retired Dixon businessman, died Thursday evening in KSB hospital. His home was at 604 First st.

Mr. Countryman was born April 5, 1871, in Starkville, N. Y., the son of William and Hannah Moyer Countryman. He came to Dixon in 1893, and spent 15 years working for Sterling Wholesale Grocery company. He entered the retail grocery business in Dixon, and retired six years ago.

Mr. Countryman attended Dixon college. He was a member of the Elks lodge in Dixon.

He married Rebecca Smucker June 5, 1901. They celebrated their golden anniversary in 1951.

Survivors are his widow; a son, I. Byron, Dixon; a daughter, Mrs. Herbert Voelker, Milwaukee, and three grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by a brother and two sisters.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. in Buckley-Staples funeral home with the Rev. Donald Littlejohn of First Christian church officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery. Friends may call in the funeral home after 2 p. m. Saturday.

Attendant to Queen

MISS DONNA DREW, 21, of 1044 Highland av., will be "Miss Purdue in the Big Ten court of honor at the University of Illinois homecoming festivities and the Illinois-Michigan football game this weekend. She is a senior in speech correction at the university. Miss Drew was one of 10 finalists to contend for the title of "Miss Illinois of 1953." She will be an attendant to Margie Burger, Webster Grove, Mo., who was named "Miss Illinois." Donna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Drew, 1044 Highland av., transferred to Illinois last year from Mt. St. Clare junior college, Clinton, Ia., where she served on the Newman club executive council; is president of her house, represents Cagel hall in the Woman's group system and is secretary to Zeta Phi Eta speech honorary.

'Prodigal' Son Turns Up; Declared 'Dead' 11 Years

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A "prodigal son," missing 22 years, was reported alive today by the insurance firm which paid $53,585 to his heirs after he was declared dead 11 years ago.

The New York Life Insurance Co. refused to disclose the exact whereabouts of Thomas C. Buntin, prominent insurance executive here, as it obtained a Chancery Court injunction Thursday tying up the remainder of the insurance money. The amount was not disclosed.

Reported in Texas

John Chambliss, a Chattanooga lawyer representing the firm, said he understood Buntin was somewhere in Texas. He is married, Chambliss added.

The money was placed in two Nashville banks as a trust for Buntin's three children after the Tennessee Supreme Court declared him legally dead.

The late Chief Justice Grafton Green, who wrote the opinion, called Buntin "a prodigal son" who could not take care of himself and who would have been unable to exist without assistance of his parents.

The injunction request was filed by a Nashville attorney, J. Connelly Edwards. He reportedly is the second cousin of Buntin's former secretary, Betty McCuddy, who disappeared about the same time.

Buntin, about 50, was last seen here Sept. 21, 1931.

Temperature Dips to 21 Degrees at 5 a. m. Today

The temperature in Dixon during the night failed to drop to the predicted 15 degrees, but it did hit a new low for the fall season—a cool 21 degrees at 5 a. m.

Thursday's high was 42 degrees recorded at 2 p. m.

The local weather forecast calls for continued fair skies and cold temperatures at least through Saturday.

The Great Plains bore the brunt of snow, sleet and gusty winds today as the season's coldest weather spread from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast.

The chilly air extended as far south as the Gulf with temperatures near freezing in some Southern states. It was near zero in some Midwest cities.

But the most severe weather was from eastern Wyoming and eastern Colorado eastward through the western section of South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas. Snow, sleet and rain were general throughout the storm belt.

Heaviest falls of snow were 3 inches at both Sydney, Neb., and Goodland, Kan. Strong winds whipped the snow into drifts in some areas.

Southern Florida escaped the cool air which dipped into the South. It was 34 above early today at Nashville and 38 at Chattanooga.

One of the Midwest cold spots was Cadillac, Mich., which reported 8 above.

10,000 Join Savage Rioting In Latest Trieste Flare-Up

60 Injured When Police Open Fire

American, British Troops Called in To Help Quell Mob

TRIESTE (AP)—Savage rioting flared again today in this disputed Adriatic port city. Police fired into the ranks of thousands of pro-Italian demonstrators and the death total in two days of bloody clashes mounted to eight, with six slain today.

Late today British and American troops with fixed bayonets marched into the trouble area and restored order.

At least 60 persons, mostly students, were in hospitals with police-inflicted bullet wounds. The British-trained territorial police suffered injuries when a hand grenade was tossed in their midst from today's milling mob of at least 10,000. Three or more police were wounded. Unconfirmed reports said one or more had died.

Flare Up In Rome

It was the first time American troops had been called in to help quell the bitter demonstrations. British and American forces, which occupy this city, have previously been posted merely as guards around buildings where their personnel were working.

In addition to the violence, here demonstrations flared in Rome and other Italian cities. Resentment was expressed against the British and Americans. A crowd in Rome surrounded the U. S. Embassy and shouted "assassins, assassins." Police broke up the crowd with tear gas and clubs and arrested scores.

Smash Windows

U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce conferred with Italian Premier Giuseppe Pella. She returned to the embassy in time to see the demonstrators seize a fire truck and turn hoses on police and toss tear gas bombs back.

Ten thousand demonstrated in Milan and marched on the British Consulate, but were turned back by police.

Rome demonstrators smashed windows in the British Embassy.

The British and Americans announced Oct. 4 that they intended to turn over administration of zone A of the Trieste territory, including the city, to the Italians.

Yugoslavia, declared its troops would march into zone A the moment Italian military forces were sent in. Tension over Trieste, always a hot issue between Yugoslavia and Italy, heightened.

Uneasy Calm

Today's Trieste rioting, involving an estimated 10,000 persons, was the worst of the three days in this city of predominantly Italian population. Pro-Italian feeling for return of the city to Italy had been stirred by Wednesday's celebrations of the anniversary of the World War I armistice on the Southern Front. Italian troops had marched into the city on that day in 1918.

An uneasy calm was restored to the city around noon but British and American troops and police were on the alert for any new outbreaks.

Bigger Than All of Us!

NEW YORK (AP)—Sex appeal, not shorthand, will land the best jobs for girl graduates, says Bernice Fitz-Gibbon, advertising director of Gimbel's store.

"Preoccupation with pulchritude on the part of the employer may not be noble and high minded, but it is a fact," she said in an address Thursday. "It's sex. You can't fight it."

Miss Fitz-Gibbon addressed deans of women and placement office chiefs from more than 100 colleges in a "Mademoiselle" magazine forum on employment problems for women liberal arts graduates.

She urged colleges to stop sending graduates into "fusty, dusty publishing houses" and "musty museums" in the belief that the litter a job paid "the more respectable it must be."

"There's nothing immoral about getting into the big money," said Miss Fitz-Gibbon. She quoted singer Sophie Tucker as saying: "I've been rich and I've been poor. And, believe me, rich is best."

Begin Farm Bureau Membership Drive

THIS GROUP OF SUBLETTE township residents was among 158 Farm Bureau members attending the Farm Bureau "kick-off" dinner in Amboy last night, the beginning of a membership drive that is expected to swell Lee county's Farm Bureau rolls to more than 2,650. Left to right, they are, Paul Lauer, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rapp and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Politch. The county goal is 48 members while statewide, the Farm Bureau hopes to attain a membership of more than 200,000. The county drive will conclude next Wednesday evening. Louis Meppin, Nelson township, is chairman of the county drive. The group last night heard Edwin Gumm, Galesburg, IAA director, tell of the benefits of Farm Bureau membership.

11 Fined $21,000 for $240,000 Bank Shortage

Judge Decides Against Sentencing to Prison

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Judge Charles G. Briggie today levied fines totaling $21,000 on 11 of 12 bank officials and customers charged with responsibility for failure of the Camden State bank.

The 12th defendant, Thomas Hester of Mount Sterling, the bank's vice president, was assessed $100 as his share of costs in the case and admitted to probation — on the condition payment is made.

The Schuyler County bank was closed in April, 1952 after state and federal authorities discovered a shortage in funds of $240,000.

The judge, in a statement read from the bench, said after careful consideration of all circumstances he decided against sentencing any of the defendants to prison.

Judge Briggie singled out cashier Roy Daly of Camden and Assistant Cashier Cyrene M. Hester of Huntsville as the two persons "primarily responsible for the unheard of conduct" of the bank. But he added that neither seems to have profited from the irregular transactions, and finally found themselves in an "overwhelming helpless condition."

Over a period of at least five years, the bank cashed checks of certain customers whose accounts had insufficient funds to cover them, allowing large overdrafts to build up. The overdrafts finally amounted to nearly one third of all bank assets.

Urge Women to Sign for Red Cross Nursing Classes

Prospective members of the Red Cross home nursing class, scheduled to begin next Tuesday evening, Nov. 10, are urged to sign up this week.

Mrs. Theresa McMahon, who will conduct the course of seven sessions, is a qualified nurse instructor. Please call the office of the American Red Cross in the afternoon, 2-8291, or Miss Clara Armstrong, county chairman of home nursing, 2-6381.

Italian Court Convicts Yanks Of War Slaying

NOVARA, Italy (AP)—The Novara court today convicted two Americans for the wartime, behind-the-lines slaying of U.S. Maj. William Holohan of New York City. They were tried in absentia.

The court acquitted three Italian co-defendants.

Judge Francesco Sicher sentenced ex-Lt. Aldo Icardi of Pittsburgh to life imprisonment. He sentenced former Sgt. Carl Lo Dolce of Rochester, N. Y., to 17 years in prison.

Since U.S. courts declined to extradite them, they cannot be forced to return to Italy to serve the sentences.

Witnesses and attorneys laid most of the blame for the killing on Icardi although Lo Dolce was accused of actually firing the shots which killed Holohan after an attempt to poison him failed. His body later was sunk in a lake in Northern Italy and recovered after the war.

Brownell Urges Press to Fight Government Secrecy

CHICAGO (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today urged the press, radio and television to continue combatting any unnecessary secrecy thrown around federal government operations.

In an address prepared for the annual meeting of The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn., Brownell asserted:

"You must seek out and oppose any operation of government which places a barrier in the way of free flow of information."

Dwells On Order
The attorney general devoted his prepared address to President Eisenhower's new executive order, announced in Washington today, dealing with safeguards on official information in relation to the national defense.

The new order, binding on all executive agencies, replaces former President Truman's information security order of 1951, which many news groups have criticized as susceptible to abuse.

Brownell said President Eisenhower considers the free flow of information from the government to the people to be basic to the good health of the nation.

"Through his new order, he has reached his goal—the elimination of unnecessary obstacles which interfere with the activities of the press, radio, television, and other media of public information in bringing to the people knowledge of the plans, policies and daily operations of their government," Brownell said.

Brownell paid tribute to the suggestions offered by those handling the news.

He noted that he had received from President Norman E. Isaacs of the AFME a copy of an association resolution asserting "the people right to know about their own government."

"I believe that the most eloquent testimony of how fully and unservingly the President agrees with you is contained in this new executive order," Brownell said.

Brownell Says FBI By-Passed

Harry White Was Treasury Assistant; Even Got Promotion

CHICAGO (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell said today that Harry Dexter White, assistant secretary of the treasury in the Truman administration, was a Russian spy, but was kept in the government even after the FBI reported this to the White House.

The attorney general charged that "in the face of this information" President Truman advanced White to the important position of executive director for the United States in the International Monetary Fund.

"I don't recall that such a thing happened," the former President said in Kansas City when informed of Brownell's remarks. "As soon as we found out that White was wrong we fired him."

Mr. Truman then added that the administration is "desperate."

"There is a desperate effort to offset what has happened in New York and New Jersey," he said, "and they'll stop at nothing, lies or anything else, to accomplish their purpose. They're scared. They're desperate."

Brownell described Truman's actions in the matter as "incredible."

Presents Outline

Brownell presented an extensive outline of White's associations with the last Democratic administration in a speech prepared for the Executive Club of Chicago.

He asserted that "it is a source of humiliation to every American that during the period of the Truman administration the Communists were so strikingly successful in infiltrating the government of the United States."

This, he said, had left to the Eisenhower regime a "very difficult task" of weeding out subversive elements from the federal pay roll.

White came into the government during the Roosevelt administration. He died Aug. 15, 1948.

In recent years, White's name has come repeatedly into congressional investigations of subversive influences.

Names White
Elizabeth Bentley, who has asserted that she once worked as a courier for a Communist spy ring in Washington, named White at one time as an alleged participant in the ring.

Brownell recounted that White, holding numerous degrees from leading universities of the country, entered government service in 1924 and steadily progressed upward "until by 1945 he was one of the most important men in the United States government."

His service included duties with the Tariff Commission, the Treasury Department and the Export-Import Bank. At one time the Treasury sent him to England to make special economic studies. On another occasion, Brownell said, former Treasury Secretary Morgenthau took him on a trip to Italy and North Africa.

Drafted German Plan

White was described as having drafted the Morgenthau plan for the treatment of Germany following World War II. This was a proposal in effect that Germany be reduced to a pastoral state, deprived of heavy industry. It was never adopted.

Attend the Church of Your Faith Regularly

Open the Door!

The only tragedy in being young is that you must depend on the common sense and far-sightedness of adults.

For when you're young, even though your heart cries out for opportunity, there are doors to which your parents hold the key.

One of these is the door to Faith. A child wants to believe. He needs religious teaching. God has implanted in his tiny body a growing, hungry soul.

But millions of America's little ones are being barred from the Church, starved of spiritual nourishment by unthinking parents. They are chained to unbelief, condemned to moral immaturity by fathers and mothers who have lost their own faith, and have ceased to care.

Do you know these parents? Are you, perchance, one of them? Remember Who it was who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not." OPEN THE DOOR!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Alliance Church Dedicates Its New Bus

—Telegraph Photo

MEMBERS OF THE ALLIANCE SUNDAY SCHOOL, Fifth street and Ottawa avenue, were pictured Sunday inspecting a newly-purchased church bus to be used in transporting members to and from the church. The bus was dedicated to church use by the Rev. Dwight Hall, Alliance pastor. The 34-passenger vehicle was renovated to meet Sunday school needs after being purchased from a nearby school district. A survey is under consideration to establish a north-of-the-river bus route. At present, a general route westward on Third street to the city limits and back to the church via Fourth and Seventh streets has been scheduled. The bus will also be used by church organizations and for picnics and other special occasions. It is believed that the Alliance church is the first in the city to purchase a bus especially for church activities.

MR. and MRS. HODGE

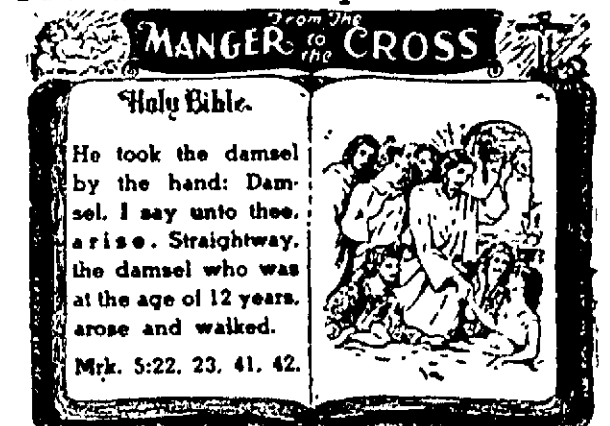

A VETERAN of the Two Jims campaign will tell the story of his conversion to Christianity on the famous island at a special service Monday, 7:30 p.m. in the Tabernacle church, Dixon. Harry Hodge, a native of Crossett, Ark., was with the 4th division Marines when they made the invasion, hitting the beach about an hour after the first wave of troops landed. He will tell about the conflict, which proved to be one of the toughest in Marine corps history, relating his own actual experiences. Hodge is expected to explain the reasons why the island was important enough to be invaded, going into detail on some of the techniques and methods of fighting, both by the Japanese and Marines. He and his wife also will present a special music program featuring the trombone, accordion and electric guitar. The service is sponsored by the Dixon Hi-C club.

Tuesday's Election

Last Tuesday's elections in various spots over the country were over-emphasized by the press as Democratic victories.

It is quite true that New Jersey's congressional district was a severe jolt and very probably reflects an attitude on the part of the independent voter that would indicate his disappointment in Republican achievements up to this moment. But no observer fully acquainted with the past record expected New York or Virginia to do anything but vote Democratic. Democratic mayors were elected in some Republican cities. Little Rock, Arkansas, elected a Republican for the second time. Mayoralty fights are not necessarily strict partisan affairs and the personality of the candidates has more to do with the outcome than do their party affiliations. Philadelphia Republicans showed the Democrats a thing or two.

But in Cook county, Illinois, the election was one for the historian to chronicle. The judicial election in Cook county was a major victory for Gov. William Grant Stratton, Illinois' new political leader, who has astounded oldtime observers by his ability, his understanding of the needs of the people of his state and his knack of getting these needs taken care of. In Chicago, where the Democrats have always had a stranglehold on off-year elections and especially the courts and where no Republican could be elected except by the coalition method, the two parties slugged it out this year for a number of the judgeships.

Gov. Bill Stratton plunged into the fray, knowing of course that defeat would injure his prestige. He led the fight for the Republican judges and eight out of fourteen, more than half of the Republicans, were elected. It was an unexpected and seemingly an impossible thing to do, and thanks to Gov. Stratton, Cook county, Illinois, was the brightest spot on the G.O.P. map this week.

The overall political picture does not look too dark for the Republican party nationally, but it would indicate that the next congress needs to do something and the administration needs to do something, to bolster the kind of support that swept President Eisenhower into office.

Apparently the halting of the Korean war was not enough. It is indicated that the general public expects tax cuts, and if the Republicans are to control congress after the next election those tax cuts better come along.

Illinois, notwithstanding, is loyal to the G.O.P. and with Bill Stratton at the helm, it will stay that way.

Complicated Play Is Not Needed

By OSWALD JACOBY

Some plays are so simple that you don't really notice them. When today's hand was played, the declarer and the dummy had a long discussion about the proper, complicated way to make the contract (after South had managed to go down), but neither of them spotted the very easy sure-fire line of play.

West opened the seven of clubs, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer cashed dummy's top diamonds, discarding a heart from his hand, and ruffed a low diamond with the five of spades. West closed.

erly discarded a heart instead of overruffing.

South worried for a minute or so about his next play and then decided to try for a crossruff. He cashed the ace of hearts and led a low heart towards dummy. West ruffed and returned a trump, whereupon the whole hand collapsed. The diamonds couldn't be brought in, the crossruff wouldn't work, and South was able to win only 10 tricks.

North tried to prove that South should have discarded a club rather than a heart on the second high diamond. Then he would eventually be able to keep a heart entry to dummy and bring in the diamond suit.

"How does that work out?" South wanted to know. And North explained that the play goes in much the same way until West ruffs the second heart and returns a trump. Then South would win in dummy with the queen of spades, ruff a diamond, draw trumps and get back to dummy with the king of hearts to run the diamonds.

All of this was true, but complicated and unnecessary. After winning the first trick in the dummy with the ace of clubs, declarer should simply lead a low diamond from the dummy and let the opponents take it. Or South can cash the ace of diamonds first and then lead a low diamond from the dummy, discarding a heart or a club from his hand.

If the opponents then return a heart (their best defense), South takes the heart ace, leads the low trump to dummy's queen, ruffs a low diamond, and then draws all of the trumps. The king of hearts is the entry to the established diamonds.

South need only give the opponents an early diamond trick, and he then has no further problems. The aim is then safe as long as neither opponent has five trumps or five diamonds.

CARD SENSE

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-9-7-2, Hearts 8-3, Diamonds 7-5-4, Clubs A-4. What do you do?

TODAY'S QUESTION

Q—When was chinichilla breeding started in this country?

A—In 1923 an American mining engineer trapped 11 chinichillas in Chile and took them to California. They were successfully domesticated and today their descendants are numbered in the hundreds of thousands.

Q—What is a scientific explanation of the periodic disappearance of Falcon Island?

A—The island is produced by intermittent eruptions of an underwater volcano. When the volcano is quiet the sea wears away the ash it has thrown up.

Q—Where is the metal obtained that is used in making every Victoria Cross?

A—They are made from metal taken from guns captured in the Crimean War.

Q—What honor was accorded Longfellow that no other American poet has ever received?

A—A bust of him was placed in the Poet's Corner in Westminster Abbey.

Q—Why does polished rice have less food value than unpolished rice?

A—Polishing removes most of the very nutritious vitamins and minerals from the grain.

Westbrook Pegler

(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK—Continuing my determined though intermittent effort to discredit Drew Pearson, I have checked a recent statement of his reflecting on the Associated Press and Marvin Arrowsmith of its Washington staff. Alan Gould, the executive editor of the A. P., now writes me that the statement "had no basis in fact." This is his euphemism for my reiterated warnings that Pearson is a liar and a faker as many editors who print his rubbish have admitted in print and otherwise.

The incident here was a speech by Pearson to undergraduates of Bethel College, at North Newton, Kan., and others on October 17. In a story signed by Don Granger the Wichita Eagle reported that 2,500 persons heard Pearson charge that Marvin Arrowsmith, an A. P. reporter, covering the United States Senate, had been guilty of ignominious and unprofessional conduct. Pearson's own standards, as revealed in a number of episodes, are such that he may not have realized that the conduct which he attributed to Arrowsmith and the A. P. was disgraceful.

Granger's story in the Wichita Eagle said: "Shortly after (Senator Joe) McCarthy made his three speeches in the Senate (in 1950), a group of editors of Southern newspapers affiliated with the Associated Press were told 'you must carry more news about this man'."

"Marvin Arrowsmith, Associated Press reporter who was then covering the Senate, was called in by McCarthy, Pearson charged, and told 'Look here, you are going to carry my speeches in full or I will go on the floor and blast you as a Communist.'"

"Arrowsmith, who has since been assigned to other duties, had four children and was intimidated by McCarthy, Pearson told the audience, and McCarthy's activities were given full coverage. There was a complete blackout of news critical to McCarthy," Pearson charged.

On receiving a clipping of Mr. Granger's story I wrote Alan Gould, an old sports writer with whom I covered many heroic trivialities in the era of wonderful nonsense, asking him for the facts.

In an interim reply he said Mr. Arrowsmith was then on vacation but that "neither Bill Meade, our Washington chief of bureau, nor I had previously heard statements about the Associated Press attributed to Senator McCarthy, as published—" in the Eagle.

This disposed of the charge that the A. P. had flinched under a threat of false and defamatory charges to be uttered on the floor of the Senate to the extent of withdrawing a qualified journalist from one of the most important runs in the capital.

After Mr. Arrowsmith came back, Mr. Gould wrote further: "I can now tell you positively that there is no basis in fact for the statements Drew Pearson was reported in the Wichita Eagle to have made in a speech at Bethel College, Newton, Kan., on Oct. 17, referring to alleged threats to Marvin Arrowsmith of our Washington news staff, by Senator Joseph R. McCarthy."

"Arrowsmith says: 'McCarthy never said anything like that. He complained about stories on several occasions, as he did to others, but there was never any threat.'"

"As to other statements attributed in the Wichita Eagle story to Pearson, I can assure you that they are equally unrelated to the facts as we know them."

"This refers to Pearson's statement that a group of Southern A. P. editors were told that they must carry more news about McCarthy."

Bethel College has 265 students and 36 teachers according to the World Almanac. A group photograph with Granger's story showed Pearson standing between two men identified as Dr. B. C. Wedel, president of the college, and Dr. Hartley L. Stuckey, head of the history department, "who introduced Pearson."

These authorities had no excuse to believe they were entertaining a truthful, objective journalist who could be relied on to speak without malice toward public men, particularly prominent opponents of the Communist penetration. Pearson's character has been shown up by chapter and verse so often that any pedagogue in the position of Dr. Wedel and Dr. Stuckey should have been on guard.

Other events indicate that the long, trying campaign to destroy this graceless mountebank's power of intimidation is beginning to show results, even in papers which perversely continue to print him.

The Arkansas City, Kan., Daily Traveler, like the Wichita Eagle, a Pearson client, said in an editorial on Sept. 28:

"A problem of some magnitude faces the nation's press today. It concerns the publishing of facts and propaganda. How is an editor to know when a reporter or columnist is smearing and belittling an enemy when the sources of the facts lie miles from the newspaper office? Because certain columns are printed and later found to carry unfounded stories, the press suffers. If there is dignity within the newspaper profession, it is soon lost through the publishing of undignified writers."

"Followers of Drew Pearson are advised to tread cautiously before they accept all his stories as fact. Because Pearson has left the

Divorce Isn't Always Best Solution, Even If Justified

Just where is a woman justified in drawing a line between what she will and what she won't put up with from a husband? That's the question raised by the following letter:

"We hadn't been married quite two years when I discovered that my husband was having an affair with another woman. I was so stunned and hurt and disillusioned that I talked of divorce, but he begged me to stay with him."

"I really believed it would never happen again and thought we could start over for the sake of our child. Now it is eight years and another child later—and during those years there has been a series of other women."

"I know now, of course, that my husband is just no good. There's no love or respect for him left. He is not only a miserable failure as a husband, but an indifferent father."

"Once a woman reaches that conclusion, don't you think she is justified in getting a divorce?"

THINK OF CONSEQUENCES FIRST

Under those conditions she is certainly justified. But there is an even more important question a mother of two children should ask herself: "Will my children and I be better off after a divorce than we are now?"

Study that question from every angle before you make your decision. You've got to look out for your own and your children's best interests, so you can't afford to let anger or pride or disappointment make your decision for you. You've got to make it with your eyes wide open.

It is time now to stop thinking in terms of justification and to start thinking in terms of consequences.

Divorce—even when justified—isn't always the best solution for a woman who has children.

The Doctor Says:

Lumps Caused by Chronic Cystic Mastitis Are Best Removed for a Complete Analysis

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

A common and troublesome ailment is brought up by today's first letter.

Q—Please explain cystic mastitis of the breast. Does it ever become cancerous?

Mrs. C. F.

A—Chronic cystic mastitis, as it is most commonly known, develops frequently in the middle years of life. Its cause is not known, and it is often shown by a lump or lumps in the breast. Since the diagnosis cannot be made with absolute certainty without removing the lump, it is generally best to remove it so it can be examined. In the majority of cases cystic mastitis does not become cancerous, but it should not be neglected.

Q—Can itching of the legs be due to varicose veins?

Reader.

A—Yes.

Q—Several months ago I underwent surgery on one of the valves of my heart. My progress has been splendid, but because I cannot do as much work yet as I did before, my mother-in-law makes remarks about her son being tied to an invalid, and says that it should not have taken longer than a week to heal. Do you think I could do everything now?

Mrs. J.

A—It takes a long period of convalescence to get over the effects of something as serious as an operation on the heart valves. You are to be congratulated that the progress has been so rapid and your mother-in-law is certainly not justified in casting doubt on your willingness to do more around the home. Her remarks should be ignored and you should do as much or as little as the doctors advise.

Q—Will you please settle an argument. Can a girl who has been raped become pregnant? I say she can, and my friend says no.

Reader.

A—You are right.

Q—What can be done for an ulcer on the leg?

Reader.

A—The cause of the ulcer must be determined first. If it is the result of varicose veins, which is one of the most common causes, treatment should be directed toward the correction of the varicosities.

Q—Has it been found that eating pork causes polio?

A—It certainly has not. I am not aware that pork has ever been a means of spreading poliomyelitis.

What's Right?

And then the giver will be satisfied that the gift was exactly what you wanted.

Wa-Tan-Ye and Guests Hear Harold Cook

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed Wednesday by members of Dixon Wa-Tan-Ye, their guests from Dixon and from Savanna, Morrison and Clinton chapters.

Following a dinner served in the Presbyterian church, Harold Cook, Dixon, gave an interesting talk. His talk was illustrated by two beautiful floral arrangements.

Hostesses for the evening were: Lucille Poole, Frances Patrick and Lois Harvey. Colorful table decorations were arranged by Martha Meppen. Emma Wilhelm had charge of favors and Margaret Myers acted as mistress of ceremonies.

Group singing was directed by Naomi Sherman, who also sang two selections accompanied by Mildred Bruce.

Mothers of World War II Sew for Many Hospitals

Mothers of World War II met Wednesday afternoon in Loveland Community House with Mrs. Katherine Shaulis, senior vice president, conducting the business meeting.

Rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. Aline Grow, reported on sewing done by the mothers and what has been sent to hospitals. Her report told of: 17 pairs of scuffles to Great Lakes; 75 pounds of carpet rags, Domiciliary center, Clinton; 69 pairs scuffles, Hines Hospital; 24 pairs scuffles and 20 laundry bags, Downey hospital and 12 bibs, Veterans hospital, Iowa City. Nine boxes of clothing were sent to Korea.

The Mothers will have a bazaar and food sale beginning at 9 a. m. Saturday, Nov. 21, in the Dixon Paint Store.

There will be sewing next Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Flossie Brown with a sack lunch at noon.

Members having sons or daughters overseas are asked to call Mrs. Mary Sheller, 3-2374 or Mrs. Vida Merriman, 2-7081, this week as Christmas boxes are to be mailed soon.

The next meeting, Nov. 18, will begin at 2 p. m. in Loveland Community House.

Ladies Aid Makes Cancer Dressings

Members of the Ladies Aid of Grace Evangelical United Brethren church met recently in the church basement and completed 14 dozen cancer dressings. This was an all day meeting with a scramble dinner at noon.

In the afternoon a short business meeting was held, followed by a program. At this time Mrs. Viola Sheets read a poem and Mrs. Norman W. Dietrich gave a talk on her recent vacation to Minnesota. She also showed folders and pictures.

The next meeting of the group will be Nov. 18, in the church. Mrs. Harvey Schofield and Mrs. Harold Edous will be hostesses.

Autumn Wedding in St. Patrick Church, Amboy

Church Group Meets With Mrs. Page

Group 4 of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian church met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Paul Page, Grand Detour. Miss Savilla Palmer was co-hostess. There were 15 present.

Final plans were discussed for the bazaar to be held Nov. 19, in the church and sponsored by all circles.

Mrs. Fred Miller led the worship period. A study period was led by Savilla Palmer.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses during the social hour.

At Library

Several reproductions by modern Mexican artists are now on display at the Dixon Public library. These have been added to the exhibit of modern painting already on display.

A loan from the fine collection at the Illinois State library, Springfield, the pictures will remain on display until the middle of next week.

Plan Next Party At Plum Hollow

Members and guests of Plum Hollow are invited to the next regular card party in the clubhouse which will be Tuesday, Nov. 10. Cards will follow a 1 o'clock dessert luncheon.

Highlighting the early winter activities at Plum Hollow will be the popular Sadie Hawkins party, Saturday evening, Nov. 14.

WEEKEND GUEST

Mrs. Wilbur Hutchinson, Chicago, will be a weekend guest of Mrs. A. F. Moore, Ottawa avenue. Mrs. Hutchinson formerly lived in Dixon.

High School Dramatic Club to Present "One Foot in Heaven"

Members of the Dixon high school dramatic club are today announcing plans for "One Foot in Heaven" by Hartzel Spence, the play they will present Friday evening, Nov. 13. The early winter production will take place at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium and is under the direction of George Renne.

Renne, Dixon high school speech and dramatics teacher, is a graduate of Drake university, Des Moines, Ia. He previously taught in Red Oak, Ia.

"One Foot in Heaven" concerns the Spence family in Laketon, Ia., and is a story about actual people in the 1900s. Mrs. Areta Gracey, Dixon, whose son, Douglas, portrays the Bishop in the play, actually knew the family while residing in Fort Dodge, Ia. The play, which is about a minister's trials and tribulations in a new parish, actually takes place in Fort Dodge, Laketon being a fictitious name.

Tickets are available from all members of the dramatic club.

Burglar Has A Taste for Chops, Eggs

An unusual twist was given to the crime of burglary Thursday when someone broke into the residence of Lee F. Saunders, 417 Highland av., and prepared a meal of pork chops, eggs and coffee.

The report of the break-in and "banquet" was made to Dixon police today by Mrs. Saunders, who said she discovered the break-in when she returned from work Thursday afternoon.

She said entrance was gained to the home by breaking in the back door. Nothing besides food was disturbed in the house. Upon investigation, she noted the eggs and pork chops missing.

Mrs. Saunders contended the intruder must have been in the kitchen shortly before she came home in that the skillet and grease in the frying pan were warm, as was the coffee pot.

She said she didn't inform police yesterday because she thought her husband might have prepared the meal. He said he did not, that he wasn't home.

Obituaries

CONRAD W. VOGELER

ROCHELLE —(Special)— Conrad William Vogeler, 68, died Thursday in Rochelle hospital, a short time after suffering a heart attack while working on the Charles Veldkirchner farm near Flag Station.

Mr. Vogeler, the son of William and Hannah Vogeler, married Elizabeth Maggie Schafer Feb. 3, 1915, in Ashton. They farmed in Reynolds township until 1947, when they moved to Rochelle.

Survivors are his widow; three sons, Vernon C. and Arland R., both of West Brooklyn, and Lawrence B., Ashton; a brother, Charles, Rockford, and two sisters, Mrs. M. J. Schaefer, Rockford, and Mrs. M. J. Schaefer, Rockford.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Reynolds Evangelical United Brethren church with the Rev. Paul W. Everitt, officiating. Dr. George E. Keeple, pastor of Rochelle Methodist church, will assist in the service. Burial will be in Ashton cemetery. Friends may call in Unger funeral home Saturday after 3 p.m.

SAMUEL C. STANFIELD

Funeral services for Samuel Charles Stanfield, 69, prominent retired Dixon merchant, were held Thursday in Jones funeral home with the Rev. Arthur A. Vinz, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

Pallbearers were Robert Warner, George Campbell, John Roe, Clarence Valle, Ken Mall and Ray Kline Jr.

Those from out-of-town attending the funeral included Mr. Stanfield's brother, J. M. Stanfield, and his wife, Paducah, Ky.; a nephew, Charles Stanfield, Little Rock, Ark.; a niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith, St. Charles; Mrs. Stanfield's sister, Mrs. W. E. Clark, Fairview, Okla.; Eustace Shaw, Newton, Ia., and Mrs. Mary Redfern, Morris.

ARTHUR J. BROWN

Arthur J. Brown, 73, of 515 E. Second st., died early today in KSB hospital.

Brown was born in Ashton, July 12, 1880, the son of Dr. James Brown and Anna Yorty Brown. He married the former Ann Burnell, Aug. 21, 1930.

Surviving are his widow and three sons. He was preceded in death by his parents, a brother, Charles, and a sister, Mary.

Brown lived in Dixon the last four years, after having moved from Chicago.

Funeral services will be held in the Cluta funeral home, Ashton, Sunday at 2 p.m., with the Rev. William Anderson, Presbyterian church, Ashton, officiating. Burial will be in the Ashton cemetery.

IAA Reveals Sentiments Of Farmers

CHICAGO (U.S.)—The Illinois Agricultural Assn. says Illinois farmers generally want the federal government to cut expenditures and balance the budget, but disagree on farm price supports.

The association said most of the 25,000 farmers who expressed opinions in a state-wide survey made at the request of Secretary of Agriculture Benson favored government economy and living within its income.

But some favored continued present support of farm prices at 90 per cent of parity, others favored a flexible price support in relation to crop supplies, and still others favored abolishing all price supports.

The association, largest state Farm Bureau organization in the nation, declined to disclose proportions of varying opinions on price supports.

The survey data will be used to draft a resolution to be placed before the association's annual meeting in Chicago Nov. 16.

Mrs. Juliana Frey Seeking Divorce

A complaint for divorce was filed in the office of John O. Shaulis, circuit court clerk, by Mrs. Juliana Frey, Dixon, charging her husband, Reed, with extreme and repeated cruelty.

According to the complaint, they were married May 17, 1950, in Dixon and lived together until April 10, 1953.

No children were born to the marriage.

In seeking the divorce, the wife asked that her husband be made to pay $330 in medical and hospital bills allegedly incurred as a result of his purported cruelty.

She also requested permission to resume the use of her former name, Juliana Judd, and that her husband pay attorney's fees resulting from the divorce suit.

Personals

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Clevidence will spend Sunday in Chicago.

Miss Joy Ortgiesen, former Dixon, submitted to facial surgery Thursday in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schade, Ashton, attended the Foreign Travel club meeting Thursday evening in Loveland community house, Dixon.

Vernon H. Duke is now located in Detroit, Mich., where he is with the well known A. B. Dick and Company.

Due to a typographical error the address given in Thursday evening's paper for M/Sgt. Marvin L. Kennaugh was not correct. The address should have read: M/Sgt. Marvin L. Kennaugh, 16220803, 3d Sect. Hq. 8th Army, APO 391 c/o P.M. San Francisco, Calif.

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Clevidence and Mrs. Z. W. Moss attended an Episcopal church dinner in Sterling recently.

Oregon Driver Pleads Guilty

OREGON — (Special) — Riley Bowers, Rt. 1, Oregon, today pleaded guilty in county court to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. He was fined $100 and costs, and his driver's license will be sent to the Secretary of State's office in Springfield.

Bowers was arrested Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Al Rogers. The deputy said the offense took place on Rt. 64 east of Oregon.

Rockford Man Charged After Rt. 2 Accident

OREGON —(Special)— A Rockford man escaped serious injury but faced a drunken driving charge today after his car went out of control and rolled several times on Rt. 2 about two miles south of Oregon.

The car driven by Holger Ekobom was demolished. Ekobom was taken to Warmolt's clinic for examination. Deputy Sheriff Al Rogers charged him with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. The accident happened about 12:30 a.m.

Brownell

"Notwithstanding all this," Brownell said, "Harry Dexter White was a Russian spy."

"He smuggled secret documents to Russian agents for transmission to Moscow. Harry Dexter White was known to be a Communist spy by the very people who appointed him to the most sensitive and important position he ever held in government service."

The attorney general went on then to declare that the FBI became aware of White's espionage activities early in his government career, "and from the beginning made reports on these activities to the appropriate officials in authority."

Got Advancement
He continued:

"But these reports did not impede White's advancement in the administration.

"I can now announce officially, for the first time in public, that the records of my department show that White's spying activities for the Soviet government were reported in detail by the FBI to the White House by means of a report delivered to President Truman through his military aide, Brig. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, in December of 1945."

Brownell said that one month later Truman advanced White to the post with the International Monetary Fund. Thereupon, he said the FBI compiled a special and detailed report on White "and his espionage activities" and delivered this to Gen. Vaughan to be given to the President, on Feb. 5, 1946.

Report Shelled
"And yet the Senate Banking and Currency Committee was permitted to recommend White's appointment on Feb. 5 in ignorance of the report.

"The Senate itself was allowed to confirm White on Feb. 6, without the Senate being informed that White was a spy."

St. Patrick's Church Blaze Extinguished

Dixon firemen extinguished an electrical wiring fire Thursday at 8:04 p.m. in the St. Patrick's Catholic church before it caused damage to the building.

The blaze was knocked down within about 15 minutes as fire fighters employed carbon dioxide and carbon tetrachloride extinguishers.

According to Fire Chief Gail Keyser, it started in an electric switchboard located on the north wall of the basement near a stair leading to the outside of the building.

Keyser described flames as leaping high in the air when he arrived. Fast work prevented any damage to the church building with the exception of the switchboard and considerable wiring.

The fire was discovered during choir practice in the church. Keyser said that some of the lights went out. The Rev. T. S. Green investigated and found the blaze.

Temporary wiring has been installed in order that church functions may continue, Keyser said.

Two Dixon Women Granted Divorces

Divorce decrees were granted to two Dixon women Thursday by Lee County Circuit Court Judge Robert Bracken on grounds of desertion.

In obtaining a divorce from her husband, Charles, Mrs. Betty G. Madden was awarded the custody of their three children, ages 4, 2, and 1.

Judge Bracken ordered the husband to pay $60 a month child support, $40 a month alimony, and a total of $75 in attorney's fees.

The Maddens were married Nov. 8, 1948, and lived together until March 6, 1951.

A decree for divorce also was granted to Mrs. Mildred Z. Diel from her husband, John, the parents of children who are now adults and self-supporting.

They were married March 13, 1926, and lived together until Oct. 15, 1948.

Question Youth at LaCrosse

LA CROSSE, Wis. (U-P)—La Crosse authorities today were expected to question a 15-year-old boy who told Madison police Thursday after he was picked up as a runaway that he had dated the missing Evelyn Hartley.

The youth, from nearby Onalaska, was picked up on the request of his parents. La Crosse police were sent today to return him.

Madison Police Capt. Richard Gruber said the boy told him he was in Onalaska the weekend of Oct. 24 when Evelyn vanished but that he did not see her during the visit. The boy said he had not seen Evelyn for several months. He had been working in Madison restaurants.

Charles Wilson, director of the state crime laboratory, said that tennis shoes found along a highway outside La Crosse are believed to be those worn by the abductor who snatched the 15-year-old girl from the home where she was baby sitting. The friction cup soles match footprints found outside the home, Wilson said.

SPIRITUAL HOME
Among some tribes, gravestones, as well as memorials, are erected for the purpose of serving as temporary abodes for the spirits when they desire to visit the living, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

A 3/C ROBERT G. WALLACE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wallace, Hazelwood rd., Dixon, was a member of the air force crew which won the "World Series of Bombing" competition last week. Wallace is stationed at Barksdale Air Force base which won trophies for the winning wing and winning crew. Wallace is a member of the 513th Bomb squadron, 367th Bombardment wing. During the competition, air force long range bombing crews competed in navigation and strike efficiency with live bombs on the Walker AFB gunnery range and on simulated bombing raids over Omaha, Dallas and Oklahoma City.

IMPRISONED ABSENTEES

"Don't blame your car when you stall!"

A thin film of ice—a major cause of engine stalling from 58° to 28°

Rapid evaporation of gasoline chills carburetor below freezing, causing moisture in air to condense and freeze on carburetor parts. A thin film of ice forms on the carburetor throttle plate. Ice shuts off the flow of fuel during idling. Then, when you make a stop, your fuel-starved engine sputters and dies. New STANDARD WHITE CROWN Premium Gasoline contains a costly DE-ICER additive which prevents carburetor ice from forming.

New Standard Premium does what no other gasoline will do!
remarkable DE-ICER additive prevents stalling!

Believe it or not, when your engine quits in traffic at this time of the year, chances are that ice does it. Yes, ice causes cold-motor stalling even on Indian Summer mornings! Carburetor ice! And this amazing fast-freeze is likely to occur when the temperature registers between 58° and 28° above zero!
For years motorists have mistakenly blamed their cars. Actually no mechanical carburetor adjustment can cure it. But now Standard scientists have solved it. STANDARD WHITE CROWN Premium Gasoline contains a costly DE-ICER additive, a built-in anti-freeze that prevents the formation of ice film that can cripple the action of carburetors!

Dixon Winds Up Fall Activity

Gridders at Princeton in Final Game

Harriers Battle For State Honors Tomorrow a. m.

Dixon's football and cross country teams conclude activities tonight and tomorrow with the gridders traveling to Princeton tonight and the harriers joining in the 20-team scramble for state honors at Urbana tomorrow morning.

Coach Barnhart has a football team at full strength for the Princeton game tonight, the first time this season that he has been able to field the same ball club two weeks in a row. In addition, the Dixon coach has brought up two sophomores, Glenn Rosbrook and Burl Stonecipher.

Both teams are shooting for their fourth win against four defeats. The cold weather should give a slight advantage to Dixon which features a running game as opposed to Princeton's passing attack.

20 Complete
The varsity tilt will begin right after the frosh-soph test which gets underway at 6 p. m.

The Dixon harriers compete with 19 other schools at Urbana and numerous individual stars from schools which do not have team representation.

Peoria Woodruff, defending champion, is favored to take the honors with major threats expected from Urbana, Cumberland, Mounds, Douglass, Evanson and Proviso of Maywood.

Woodruff gains the favorite nod on the strength of its showing at Lincoln last week when its harriers finished second, fourth, fifth, eighth and tenth.

After Geneseo

Dixon's most immediate goal will be to beat out Geneseo, North Central Illinois conference champions for the past two years. The Dukes finished second in the conference meet but have shown considerable improvement over their previous performances at the district meet at Morrison when they upset the highly regarded East Rockford.

Making the trip for Dixon are: Lou Wigginton, Don Wigginton, Art Gagn, Norm Glenn, Bill Beamblossom, Jack Winder and Mike Wilson.

Other schools entered: Alton, Austin, Englewood, Bloom, Galesburg, Glenbard, Hurst-Bush, Lyons, Twp., Madison, Marseilles, Peoria Central, East Rockford.

Dave Stern, West Rockford, winner of the Morrison district, Bob Schwabe, and Carl Antonitis, Rock Falls, second and third at Morrison, and Clint Byrd, Princeton, winner at Sheffield, also make the trip.

Cotton Bowl Will Pay Some Champion Well

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Cotton Bowl has made no definite move toward getting a visiting team to meet the Southwest Conference champion in the Jan. 1 football game but whoever it is will receive $150,000 for the afternoon's work.

The Cotton Bowl will pay its all-time high. Each school got $146,491 last Jan. 1.

Under new conference rules, the host team receives a flat $60,000 plus $7.50 per mile one way travel allowance. The remainder of its $150,000 will be distributed equally among the seven conference members, including a full share to the team that appears in the bowl, after the Southwest Conference office takes out its operating expenses for the year.

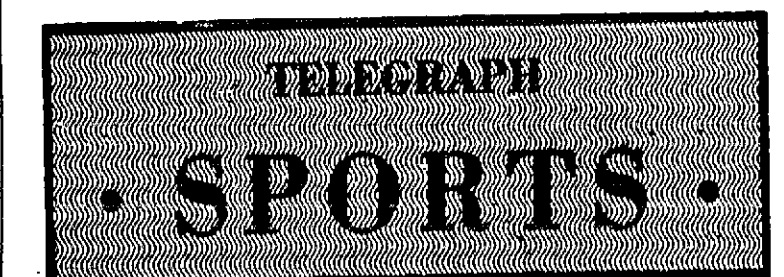

The Cotton Bowl board met this week and discussed West Virginia, Georgia Tech, Mississippi, Auburn, Alabama and Kentucky as bowl candidates.

Schools still in the Southwest Conference championship race each submit a preferential list Nov. 15.

Two Crucial Big 10 Tilts on Docket

LEAHY RUNS—Frank Leahy, Jr., son of the Notre Dame football coach, runs with the ball during practice at Campion Academy at Prairie du Chien, Wis., where he is the star quarterback. Unidentified teammate blocks during drill for the season's final game at Davenport, Ia., with St. Ambrose high school. Young Leahy, the team's high scorer, has led the Campion squad to five victories in seven games. (AP wirephoto)

Three Surprise Conference Leaders in Severe Tests

NEW YORK (AP)—Baylor, Illinois and Stanford, surprise leaders of three of the major conferences, face their most severe tests of the season Saturday as they drive toward football bowl bids.

Unbeaten Baylor, ranked third in the nation in the most recent Associated Press poll, visits the University of Texas needing another victory to maintain its hold on the Southwest Conference. Illinois, the only undefeated Big Ten club, entertains the very capable Michigan eleven.

Stanford Underdog
Stanford, with five straight triumphs in Pacific Coast Conference play, invades Los Angeles as a six-point underdog against Southern California.

The Illini rank fourth in the country and Stanford 11th. Top-ranking Notre Dame continues its barnstorming campaign for its first national championship since 1919 against overmatched Penn at Philadelphia's Franklin Field.

Maryland (No. 2), Georgia Tech (No. 6) and West Virginia (No. 7) should have even less difficulty than the mighty Irish. The unbeaten Terrapins from Maryland visit George Washington. Georgia Tech rules a heavy favorite over Clemson and West Virginia appears

Stengel Can Keep Job as Manager as Long as He Wants

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP)—Casey Stengel apparently can keep on managing the champion New York Yankees as long as he wants the job.

Co-owner Del Webb said as much at a testimonial dinner given Casey Thursday night by his home town chamber of commerce.

Webb called Stengel "not only one of the greatest guys in baseball but the finest manager," and added "I hope Casey stays with our ball club as long as he wants to."

Millikin Eyes Share of CCI Title Against North Central

CHICAGO (AP)—Millikin University, hoping for a slice of the College Conference of Illinois football title, carries its campaign to North Central Saturday in one of the feature games of downstate collegians.

The game will pit the passing of North Central's Bill Cossell, who has 25 strikes in 49 attempts, against Millikin's ground attack led by halfback Leo Vitelli. Vitelli has an 8.2 average.

Millikin will be seeking its third CCI victory in four starts, having lost only to Augustana, 32-14. North Central has dropped three decisions and won one, shading Illinois Wesleyan 15-12 in a season opener.

The only other CCI game Saturday sends Wesleyan (6-3) to Elmhurst (0-4) in a cellar battle. The league leader, undefeated Wheaton, will seek its seventh straight considerably better than Virginia Tech.

Must Hustle
Michigan State (No. 5), Oklahoma (No. 8) and Duke (No. 10) should win but they'll have to hustle. Michigan State comes up against Ohio State. Oklahoma faces its last major test in the Big Seven Conference against Missouri. Duke takes on the Navy at Baltimore.

UCLA, ranked ninth, will rest and hope that Southern Cal can stop Stanford.

The experts figure the Baylor-Texas meeting provides the most likely spot for an upset. In the Southwest Conference a team on top at this stage rarely survives.

Illini Favored

A free-wheeling ground attack powered by J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates makes Illinois a favorite over Michigan. An Illini triumph would bring a Rose Bowl invitation much closer. If Illinois gets beaten, the Michigan State-Ohio State winner could catch up.

In the Big Seven, Kansas State's Wildcats, smarting from last week's licking by Oklahoma, meet the University of Kansas, and Iowa State meets Nebraska.

In the East, Penn State and Fordham, two pass-conscious teams, clash with quarterback Tony Rados the main reason Penn State is favored. Princeton takes on Harvard in one of the nation's oldest rivalries. Army plays host to North Carolina State.

Favor Fuentes
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Welterweight Ramon Fuentes, a local boy, is favored to defeat Danny (Bang Bang) Womber of Chicago in a 10-round main event tonight at Olympic Stadium.

Womber scored a surprise decision over champion Kid Gavilan in a non-title bout last May.

Illinois Hosts Wolverines, MSC at Ohio

All Four Teams Have Chance for Conference Title

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten enters the last half of its football championship campaign Saturday with four of the most powerful contenders getting a chance to chop each other down.

In what may well be key games of the season, Michigan will try to spoil Illinois' homecoming and Michigan State invades Ohio State.

Only the Illini are unbeaten. They have rolled over Ohio State, Minnesota and Purdue. After Michigan, the Illini will wind up at Wisconsin and then Northwestern.

Favor Illini
Michigan is defeated once in three Big Ten engagements, losing 22-0 to Minnesota, a team that was trampled earlier 27-7 by Illinois. Illinois is favored Saturday by seven points.

Michigan State and Ohio State each has 3-1 league records. The Spartans were upset 6-0 in Purdue's only victory of the entire season. Illinois whipped the Buckeyes 41-20.

Michigan State will have only Michigan remaining on its conference schedule after Saturday while Ohio State—playing seven league games to six for the other top contenders—will finish against Purdue and Michigan.

Badgers Rate
Michigan State is a seven-point choice.

Wisconsin also figures in the race after losing only to Ohio State, 20-19, and beating Purdue and Iowa. The Badgers play Saturday at Northwestern, which has three non-league victories while losing all three Big Ten starts.

Illinois and Minnesota will remain for Wisconsin, a 3-point favorite over Northwestern.

Rounding out a full program of conference action, Iowa (1-3) rates a 3-point edge at Purdue (1-2) and Minnesota (2-2) is a 14-point favorite as host to Indiana (0-3).

Southern Loop May Remove Bowl Ban Soon

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The Southern conference may soon lift its ban on postseason football games.

The conference's special events committee met here Thursday behind locked doors and later said it would recommend that the 10-member league permit bowl participation.

Max Farrington of George Washington university, president of the conference, said the recommendation must be voted on by the circuit's membership.

West Virginia is under consideration for the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex., and the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

The Southern conference suspended Maryland and Clemson less than two years ago for violating its rules governing post-season games. The two schools withdrew from the conference late last spring and with five other schools formed the Atlantic Coast conference.

Favor Fuentes
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Welterweight Ramon Fuentes, a local boy, is favored to defeat Danny (Bang Bang) Womber of Chicago in a 10-round main event tonight at Olympic Stadium.

Womber scored a surprise decision over champion Kid Gavilan in a non-title bout last May.

THE ILLINOIS STATE CONSERVATION department has really got the hunting situation fouled up and local conservation officer, James Liston, is right in the middle of the whole mess.

EVER SINCE JULY 22, when the conservation department thought it could eliminate the sale of fur bearing licenses with one memorandum, the trouble has been building to a head. Now a second memorandum has hit the state which says:

"At the recent session of the Illinois General assembly, the license 'to take fur-bearing animals' was abolished and instead the individual wishing to hunt all species may do so by obtaining a regular hunting license.

"On July 22, 1953, this department wrote all clerks handling licenses and advised them not to sell any additional licenses 'to take fur-bearing animals' and assumed that this license would not be offered to the public for sale.

"It has been brought to our attention that many clerks or their agents throughout the state are, as of this date, selling these licenses which were abolished and the date of Nov. 1, instead of Nov. 15, appears as the opening date of the raccoon season.

"The department has written all clerks, and in addition, we have issued a statewide news release calling the matter to their attention that these licenses are not valid and that the season opens on Nov. 15.

"Those persons that have already purchased licenses to hunt 'fur-bearing animals' may exchange them with their local clerk or agent for a regular resident hunting license" (at no extra charge).

LISTON CAUTIONED FURTHER, that because the season does not open until Nov. 15, hunters must not run their dogs 10 days before the season opens which means from now until Nov. 15.

LISTON GOT IN THE MIDDLE of the controversy because he had been given the impression that since the Nov. 1 opening was on the fur bearing license, that while it was not recommended, hunters were at liberty to hunt with this license.

NUMEROUS CALLS reached his desk and he gave out this information. Now he must restrain hunters until Nov. 15.

WE MENTIONED OUR BIG TEN SELECTION average for last week as six for seven. Hoping to do better this week, here is the new list.

ILLINOIS OVER MICHIGAN—But we wouldn't bet on it. MINNESOTA OVER INDIANA—A light workout for Giel. IOWA OVER PURDUE—The Bollermakers are waiting for Notre Dame.

OHIO STATE OVER MICHIGAN STATE—The upset special. WISCONSIN OVER NORTHWESTERN—The Badgers get jolted next week.

NOTRE DAME OVER PENNSYLVANIA—Anyone want to argue?

For the frosh-soph and halftime varsity scores of tonight's game between Dixon and Princeton, call 2-1111 after 9 p. m. Varsity final score will be available about 10 p. m. Other area scores will be available after 10:30 p. m.

Majors to Study New Loop Plan

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The rising clamor to bring major league baseball to the West coast has reached a fever pitch and the club owners were wondering today just how they would approach the problem at the minor league meeting at the end of the month and the major league sessions in December.

Until International League President Frank Shaughnessy presented his plan for two 12-team leagues, the moguls were in a dither. They wanted to expand, but they didn't know just how to do it.

Two 12 Team Loops
Shag's plan calls for two leagues of 12 teams each—which, naturally, would take in at least a couple of West Coast cities—to be divided into Eastern and Western sections. The first four finishers in each section would play off to meet in the World Series.

This, of course, is what most of the minors have been doing since 1932, when Shaughnessy introduced his "Shaughnessy playoffs." It has kept interest alive even when one team ran away with the pennant, because in the playoffs any of the first four clubs could win.

Would Stabilize
"It would give the majors a sensible program for expansion," said Shaughnessy, who is here for a baseball rules committee meeting. At the same time it would stabilize the minor leagues.

When and if the leagues are expanded, four cities seem virtually certain of being included—Los Angeles, San Francisco, Montreal and Toronto.

Incinerators Have Hidden Home Values

Everyone has heard about fighting fires with an extinguisher, but now there's something new in the way of fire prevention — the modern gas incinerator.

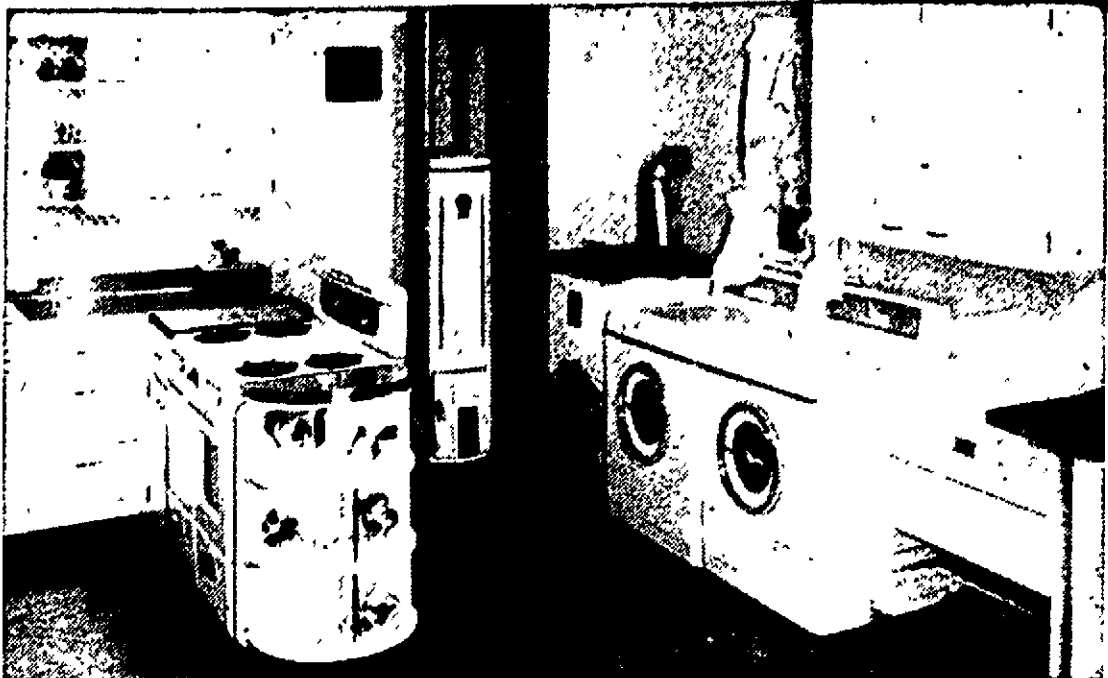

According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, cigarettes and matches start three out of every 10 fires, but the fact is that household trash is what nurses most fires into full flame.

That's where the gas incinerator figures as a preventive weapon. In a matter of seconds it reduces the biggest pile of rubbish into a powdery residue.

And there's a health dividend that comes with a gas incinerator, too. Besides helping keep the home clear of trash, the compact gadget eliminates unsightly garbage cans and removes the prime source of odors and disease bacteria.

Streamlined, exterior design of the new incinerators permits installation in either the kitchen or basement. In fact, when the incinerator is not in use, its top surface provides extra working area for the housewife.

In one year the family laundry requires the lady of the house to walk three miles carrying a load of 3,000 pounds of wet wash, tests made by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association disclose. Much of this labor can be eliminated by installation of a modern laundry, including a gas clothes dryer, in unused space in the basement or on the back porch.

ILLUSTRATING THE MODERN TREND of combining the kitchen with the laundry, this new gas kitchen includes a complete battery of dependable gas appliances. The flat-topped laundry appliances provide welcome working area when they are not in use.

Appliances Tailored for Revamping Your Kitchen

Are you satisfied with the shape your kitchen is in? If not you can choose from five different designs when you decide to remodel your present "workshop" or plan your new home.

According to the kitchen experts there are five basic shapes in modern kitchen arrangements. They include U-shape, L-shape, S-shape, single-wall and two-wall. With these five all-around plans to start her off, the modern homemaker can make endless variations to suit her own tastes or comply with the space limitations of her particular kitchen.

U stands for Utopia in kitchen planning, according to most authorities. It features work centers placed in sequence and connected by counter surfaces.

The two-wall plan, also referred to as the pullman or galley kitchen, is adaptable to small areas. It's really a corridor plan with work areas against the two walls. The one-wall kitchen is recommended only for bachelors and career girls, since storage and work space is sparse. It combines refrigerator, range, sink and storage area in one unit.

S, which doesn't stand for scullery since modern appliances moved in, is really a staggered two-wall plan. L-shaped kitchens rank high in the recommended list of the experts because they permit continuous working surfaces.

In the modern kitchen, the refrigerator, sink and food preparation areas are known as work centers. If these centers are intelligently planned, the housewife can save needless steps in meal preparation and after-meal cleanup. The counter space allowance between work centers is usually two or three feet except in small apartment kitchens.

Kitchen planning consultants agree that the most suitable window for the sink is beneath a window, between range and refrigerator centers, but the housewife should make her own decision about sink placement, dependent on her work habits.

For easier handling and storing of foods, the refrigerator should be placed near the kitchen service entrance. It's also a good idea to have the refrigerator door swing away from other kitchen centers.

Nearness to the dining area is the preferred location for your new gas range. This spot will make for easier serving. A kitchen ventilating fan should be installed directly above the range.

Counter space should give a continuous even-line working surface. Covering of these areas should be single-striped to eliminate strap bindings which collect moisture and dirt. Whenever possible a minimum of 18 inches should be allowed on each side of the range, refrigerator and sink.

Cooking utensils should be stored in cabinets near the work centers in which they are used. Frying pans, potato masher and ladles, for example, should be placed in cabinets adjacent to the range.

Try this for lunch next time you're entertaining. Using a fancy cookie cutter of timely design, cut buttered whole wheat or rye bread into shapes, then toast in broiler compartment of your gas range. Spread with a filling made of one-half pound of diced dried beef, one package of cream cheese, a dash of horseradish, a few finely chopped almonds and one tablespoon of minced onion. Serve with a molded ring of tomato aspic and cottage cheese and a side dish of buttered peas and mushrooms.

No need to sprain a wrist opening jar covers. Just run hot water from the sink tap over the cover. This will loosen any sticky syrup and allow the cover to turn easily.

Gas Ranges Designed to Ease the Cleaning Job

Good Housekeeping Habits Makes Your Task Easier

New designs in gas ranges stress ease of cleaning and have streamlined surfaces without hard-to-get-at corners which collect dirt and grease.

You can keep your new range a pride and joy by acquiring a few good-housekeeping habits.

Since most parts of a gas range are made of porcelain enamel — a kind of glass-like material fused on metal — it's fairly easy to keep it shining clean, really just like washing glassware or the dishes.

The easiest habit to follow is to wipe off the top surface and around the burner heads after each dish-washing when soap, water and cleansers are handy. By that time, too, the porcelain will have cooled off. This is important to remember because good porcelain should never be wiped off when it's hot from cooking. Accidental spillovers can be taken care of as they happen — a quick wipe with a dry paper towel. Like your porcelain sink, the top surface of the gas range, even though acid resistant, will mark if acid foods such as milk, vinegar or some fruit juices are left on it. Again, use the paper towel for quick wipe-ups.

Cleaning Top Burners The easy-to-acquire habit of wiping off top burners after each dish-washing will save time and effort when you do your once-a-week thorough cleaning of the gas range. Top burners and grates may be washed in soapy and warm water. Spillovers may have clogged the old-type burner ports "where the flame comes through." If so, just clean them out with a stiff brush or a slender wire.

Cast iron burners with a baked-on coat of enamel may be washed in warm sudsy water, turned upside down for quick draining.

Aluminum burner-heads on some modern gas ranges should be cleaned with a mild cleanser or fine steel wool just as you would an aluminum pan.

Chrome burners should not be scrubbed with steel wool but with a mild-type abrasive. If chrome or aluminum burners become dull — as they are bound to from contact with high temperatures—shine them up with an ordinary metal polish.

Removable drip trays underneath burners are as easily cleaned as a cookie sheet. Wipe with warm soapy water, remembering to dry on the bottom as well as the top before replacing.

Oven and Broiler Sections If you've been broiling food, you'll find cleaning this section of your gas range an easier task if you pour a detergent and hot water into the broiler pan right after the food is taken out. The detergent acts as a degreaser. Washing with hot water then wiping, is usually all that's necessary to get it shining clean.

The interior of both broiler and oven sections can be wiped with sudsy water and cloth and if food is baked on the porcelain finish, use a light abrasive to get it off.

If foods are spilled, clean as soon as the range is cool. When spilled over food is burned, wet a piece of cheesecloth with household ammonia, place it over the burned food and let it stay there until the cloth is thoroughly dry. Then wash with soapy water.

Don't forget the top of the oven while you're at it. Grease collected here comes from food vapors that rise from the hot baking food.

Oven racks slide out for quick cleaning and can be washed off.

All gas ranges approved by the American Gas Association's Testing Laboratories and Bearing the Blue Laboratories Approval Seal are equipped with removable oven bottoms and can be lifted out for regular cleaning.

If you have recently moved and find a gas range already installed that has accumulations of hardened grease in oven and broiler interiors, put small open dishes of ammonia inside these sections. Leave them there overnight. You'll find the ammonia fumes have loosened the accumulated grime enough to make your cleanup a much easier task.

New Twists In Cookery Suggested

If you're one of those cooks who are always on the lookout for new and interesting twists in cookery to try out on guests and family, here's a column of suggestions you might do well to clip and file:

To give prune whip a touch of glamor, serve it with coffee-flavored custard prepared in a double boiler.

Next time you're whipping up a "quicker than quick" cake with instant white cake mix, add a little grated orange rind to the batter before you pop it into your gas oven. It's very tasty.

And here's something new to serve with grilled lamb chops. Take a glass of red currant jelly, add half as much chutney, juice of half a lemon, and a little salt and pepper. Heat the mixture and serve it hot.

New Coconut Crust

Your gas refrigerator will help you make this new "baked" coconut crust, a fudge-like chocolate melt that's out of this world:

Melt two squares of unsweetened chocolate and 2 tablespoons butter in the top of a double boiler. Combine 2 tablespoons milk or water with 3/4 cup sifted confectioner's sugar and add to the chocolate mixture, stirring well. Add 1 1/2 cups shredded coconut, and mix well. Spread mixture in bottom and sides of greased 9-inch pan. Chill. To serve, fill with ice cream or your favorite chilled pudding filling.

Tricks with Meat

To keep breaded pork chops hot and crisp when not served immediately, place them in the upper part of a double boiler placed over the simmer burner of your gas range, with lower part filled with very hot water. Cover.

Corn-beef hash may be made differently by browning it in diced salt-pork that a diced onion has been added. The combination is terrific.

Before you put Sunday's leftover roast in your gas oven to re-heat, cover it completely with lettuce leaves. You'll find it helps the meat retain its moisture and flavor.

Serve hot, cooked, pitted glazed prunes with ham, roast pork or pork chops. Prunes should soak overnight so that they are nice and fat, then cooked with a small amount of water over the simmer burner of your gas range. Toward the end of the cooking period, add sugar to taste.

One For the Kids If Junior is raising a fuss about drinking his milk, try giving him this mint chocolate milk and watch the "storm" change into a sunny grin.

Add 2 to 3 teaspoons instant sweet cocoa mix and 2 teaspoons peppermint extract to one glass of milk. Stir well. Chill in your gas refrigerator before serving.

Stove Research Pays Off In Kitchen Convenience

Look up the word "stove" in the dictionary and you find it says "an apparatus in which fuel is consumed, for heating or cooking." This serves as the barest definition and is a far cry from what today's modern automatic gas range provides in cooking performance and convenience.

Constant research conducted by gas appliance manufacturers is paying off in vast improvements and some of the recent trends in gas range construction are truly revolutionary.

One of the latest ideas in gas range construction is separation of top-of-the-range cooking for the baking and broiling sections. This is so very new that only a few homemakers have adopted it, but if you are building a new home or renovating your kitchen, it might be well to look at the wide variety of gas ranges that are available today with top-burner arrangements, simmer burners, griddles, auxiliary ovens, smokeless broilers and automatic controls.

The 1953 line of one maker includes models that feature Single Point Ignition, a system of valves and controls which make it possible to light an oven or separate broiler burner from the same pilot that lights the top burners.

In presenting their new models manufacturers have remembered the thousands of apartment dwellers whose limited kitchen space must be utilized with maximum efficiency. For example, there's a 24-inch range which combines quality cooking with compactness. It's more glamorous cousin, the 30-inch gas range, has an extra large oven big enough for the festive turkey with room to spare for other dishes and plenty of room above for top-burner cooking.

Another space saving convenience available in many major lines is a full-width high shelf at the back of certain models. It's handy for keeping foods and dishes warm and for serving. The shelf usually folds down or can be lowered when not in use.

The new gas ranges offer a variety of cooking facilities. Ranges with two ovens are included in the offerings of practically every manufacturer. An alternative to the second oven is a high broiler which is on a level with the oven and deeper than the usual broiler. It's perfect for barbecuing larger cuts of meat. Adjustable broilers also are available. There are equipped with a device which enables the housewife to adjust the broiling pan to five different positions without handling the pan itself.

Another popular feature on many ranges is a griddle built into the top of the range, with an accompanying indicator to tell the degree of heat. Some manufacturers provide a cover for the grill; others offer a metal shield which protects the remainder of the range from spattering fat.

There's a rainbow of color, too, in the 1953 gas ranges. You may have a new range with a top of traditional white porcelain, chrome, or gleaming black. Deluxe models are enhanced with gold or chrome trim. Colored handles accent other models and if you want to go all out, you can take your new range entirely in color.

Here's Plan for A Complete Meal

Here's a suggestion for a complete broiler meal for Spring or Summer menu plans.

Place on the broiler grid and directly under the source of heat a slice of pre-cooked ham and halves of canned peaches which have been seasoned with a little honey and cinnamon.

Under the grid and in the broiler pan place canned green beans or asparagus. Broil for about 20 minutes, turning the ham once. The flavor from the ham drippings adds the finishing flavor touch to the vegetable. Serve on heated platter.

A current trend in bathroom decoration is to select easy-to-wash tile and sink counters in gray or a pastel. For a change in scene, sets of towels in contrasting colors may be alternated.

HOTCAKES, HAM'N EGGS, and every other griddle specialty are easy to turn out on the surface griddles of the new gas ranges. In many cases the griddles are easily removed to provide more surface cooking space.

Coffee by Remote Control Feasible

Now you can make coffee by remote control on a gas range. If you're one of those people who cherish that extra quarter-hour's sleep in the morning, you can now perk your matutinal java by simply putting the percolator on the burner the night before. Set a clock attached to the backguard of a new automatic gas range and your coffee will be ready when you get up.

An automatic gas inclinator does away with smelly old garbage cans for good. Quickly and completely it consumes refuse as soon as it collects. It is safe, silent, odorless and economical.

Leaving on a Vacation? Give Appliances a Check

Leaving for a vacation? Here's a checklist of what to do about your gas appliances. In most cases you won't have to do anything at all, but a little loving care before you leave might be in order.

Clothes Dryer: See that the lint trap is clean. Turn the dryer off. Leave the door ajar.

Gas Heating: It's advisable to keep the pilot light in operation throughout the summer to help prevent moisture damage. The expense of maintaining the pilot light is negligible.

Range: See that all units or burners are turned off. You may like to leave oven or broiler doors ajar so that moisture won't accumulate on interior walls. Be sure gas pilot lights are properly adjusted.

Refrigerator: Leave it running. Remove and discard foods that might spoil during your absence. Defrost, wash and dry the interior. If you prefer, set it at a temperature less cold than you ordinarily use. If you are leaving food in the freezer compartment consult your direction book for the proper setting.

Cooling off a warm refrigerator upon your return costs more than you think. However, if you are going to be gone for at least six weeks it probably will be more economical to wash, dry and disconnect the refrigerator.

Gas Water Heater: Leave it on. It's wonderful to have hot water waiting for you when you return from your trip. Lowering the thermostat will save you practically nothing. When no water is drawn off it costs very little for the heater to maintain the proper temperature.

To make a canned clam chowder taste as if you had just dug the clams, try adding cubes of crisp fried salt pork. Serve with buttered croutons.

Here're Some Tips to Ease Cooking Chore

With any appliance there are little tricks that can produce big results in ease of use and care. Here are a few suggestions that will help your new gas range to give you better service at a lower operating cost.

Suit the temperature to the food being cooked. To brown a chicken, for example, the flame should be set at not-quite-full. To finish fried chicken, the flame should be low. Study your range and make a practice of using the lowest possible heat. The food will taste better, and your operating cost will be lower.

When lighting a top burner, always turn it on full tilt until it lights, then lower heat as desired. Whenever possible, pan and pot size should conform to burner size.

The modern gas range can bake four good-sized food items simultaneously—if they are arranged properly. Pans should be placed on diagonal corners, not directly above one another. And be sure to leave at least one inch between pans and oven sides.

Smokeless broilers make broiled foods a pleasure to prepare. Manufacturers recommend turning the broiler flame at full. For food that is thin and tender, such as fish, place the broiler close to the flame. Thicker foods like steak can be placed a notch or two lower. Many manufacturers advise preheating the broiler pan before food is placed on it.

Sometimes a pilot light will go out, sometimes you'll put it out during a cleaning operation. When that happens, just light a match and hold it above the pilot's opening to restart the flame. If a pilot light goes out with any frequency, call a serviceman who will make a simple adjustment.

Occasionally the range will need a general washing. Remember that soap-impregnated steel wool pads will clean aluminum burner heads. Some burners can be unscrewed for easy cleaning—and don't forget the drip pan on range cleaning day.

Suggestion for A Fine Luncheon

A hot sandwich and a cold salad make a fine luncheon combination. To make a hot sandwich, dip the sandwich with its meat, fish, poultry or cheese filling into the same egg batter you use for French toast. When both sides have absorbed some of the batter, fry on a lightly greased griddle until both sides are golden brown. Serve at once with crisp relishes or a tart salad.

In older home many people are converting dining rooms or back porches into laundry and general utility centers, including play space for youngsters and storage room for their toys and other belongings. In recent years, gas appliance manufacturers have streamlined their kitchen and laundry equipment to provide utmost efficiency in the constantly shrinking floor space of new homes.

ALTHOUGH YOU PROBABLY never give it a second thought because it's so quiet and so constant, your gas water heater is important to your baby's health and well-being. Recent studies indicate the average family of four requires 50 gallons of hot water a day. Does your equipment meet this need?

Rainy Monday Can't Delay Your Laundry

Rainy Mondays don't hinder today's modern homemaker when she wants to do the family wash.

In fact, she does it any day of the week, rain or shine. In a matter of minutes. What's more, she has brought the laundry location up out of the basement and into the newly modernized kitchen area, report home economists.

Kitchen-laundry improvement is good news for the homemaker. Carrying heavy baskets of clothes up and down stairs, inside and outside to the clothes line is eliminated. Time saved by the use of automatic gas clothes dryers and washers can be used for other household tasks.

Try Poaching Favorite Dish

Poaching is a method of cooking fish ideally suited to the Summer months, especially when used with dry and delicately flavored fish. Cooked by this method fish lends itself to the serving of a number of wonderful sauces. One of these consists of a medium white sauce to which chopped hard-cooked egg and chopped dill pickle are added.

6. Provide enough working surface so there is room for sorting and spotting clothes.

Having trouble finding a suitable spot for your home laundry? Here are a few suggestions that might solve the problem. There may be extra room in the garage if it's heated. Or you can hide it behind decorative paneled doors in the dinette. An alcove off the kitchen, available attic space of a second floor bathroom are also logical laundry areas. But no matter where it's located, the laundry will save more time and work if it contains those two cleanliness twins, the automatic washer and the gas clothes dryer.

Try carrying a spare pair of clean gloves in your purse. It's just as easy to suds out two pairs in hot water as one.

Gas Incinerators Husbands' Boon Trips to Garbage Can Are Quite Unnecessary

Ever watch your wife peel potatoes? Notice how often she puts the peelings into the garbage can, waits until it begins raining and then asks you to take out the garbage?

Don't ponder the problem too much. Those trips aren't necessary any more. They've invented all kinds of gadgets to make garbage. Now they've got one that disposes of it, the automatic gas incinerator.

Now gas incinerators make it possible to have clean, trouble-free waste disposal. In addition they offer a bonus that helps you landscape the spot where your unsightly garbage can used to be.

Today's modern gas incinerators range in capacity from one to four bushels. Table-top models, finished in gleaming porcelain, blend easily with other household appliances. The units are easy to install in kitchens, utility rooms, basements or garages, and require only a simple gas line and a flue connection.

Garbage disposal is effortless and carefree with an incinerator, report families who already have units installed in their homes. In some models an automatic timer makes it possible to set the burner in operation for a predetermined time, after which it automatically turns itself off. One company offers models in a choice of colors to match kitchen design plans. Still another maker produces an economical unit, built without insulation, to create heat when it operates. In this way the gas incinerator spreads its warmth to cold basement rooms, playrooms or garages, and keeps humid basements dry.

The landscape bonus? You'll find that the small residue or ash left in the gas incinerator after burning makes an excellent fertilizer for garden or plant use—or perhaps for a flower bed in that bare patch where the garbage can used to be.

Gas Clothes Dryer Defies Weather

Any day is a good drying day when you have an automatic gas clothes dryer to speed up the family laundering, but how about your weather chances when you rely on the backyard clothesline?

U. S. Weather Bureau statistics show rain or some other adverse condition on 23 of any 52 regular washdays of the year.

Decide on any day as washday, try to stick to it through the year and it will be found that the weather is not right on almost one-half of the days.

If you're planning a new or re-modeled kitchen, try to think of all the racks, bars and hooks you will need so that they may be installed directly into the clay tile wainscots or walls when the room is constructed. One nice idea is a long metal bar, with hooks, on which to display your prize copper pieces.

MODERN GAS INCINERATORS

by REPUBLIC

In the modern home of today, you'll find that a new gas incinerator can be installed in most any nook or corner. The gas incinerator, which eliminates the daily trips to the outside garbage can, quickly disposes of all combustibles—including bones and damp garbage. Inquire today about this modern convenience.

Vatican Treasures Filmed for U. S. Memorial Library

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican library's priceless collection of ancient manuscripts is being microfilmed for a "Pope Plus Memorial Library" to be built at St. Louis Mo.

Details of the project were announced Thursday in a joint statement issued here by Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter of St. Louis and the Very Rev. John B. Janssens, father general of the Society of Jesus.

The library will be built at St. Louis University, a Roman Catholic institution. Plans call for construction to start late next year. The work is expected to cost from four to five million dollars and a fundraising campaign is now being organized.

The joint statement announced the Pope had granted permission for the construction of the library in his name. Much of the microfilming already has been completed with the cost being paid by the Knights of Columbus. This phase of the work is expected to be completed within two years.

The Vatican's collection of 50,000 hand-lettered volumes are estimated to contain 600,000 manuscripts, including many of the treasures of ancient learning.

Federal-State Relations Are Topic of Study

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois state chamber of Commerce today created a new federal-state relations committee to study relations between federal, state and local governments.

Headed by C. C. Jarchow of Chicago, president of American Steel Foundries, the committee will study such subjects as federal grants-in-aid, duplication of functions and overlapping tax fields.

In announcing the creation of the committee, Waldo B. Ames, president of the state chamber, said it is "part of a nationwide movement to have those taxing powers and operating functions properly belonging to the states returned to them by the federal government."

Members of the new committee include 65 business leaders from 35 Illinois communities.

Ames, a Chicago insurance executive, said, "In 1952, payments by the federal government to state and local governments in Illinois amounted to $102,694,449 for 41 aid programs."

"Significantly, Illinois, for every dollar received in aid, paid $1.90 in taxes."

"Federal grants received by Illinois represent some 18 per cent of total monies spent by the state."

Grace Church To Hold Thank Offering Service

The annual missionary Thank-Offering service of the Women's Society of World Service of Grace Evangelical United Brethren church will be held Sunday at 1:15 p.m. The speaker for this service will be the Rev. Rudolph Markwald, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Nachusa.

Rev. Markwald will speak on the religious situation and outlook in post-war Germany. He was born and reared in Germany. He was a member of the great Jesus Christ church, in Berlin-Dahlem. He studied at the Kirchliche Hochschule in Berlin, and Augustana seminary, in Bavaria.

Coming to the United States six years ago, he completed his studies at the Chicago Lutheran seminary in Maywood. Prior to coming to Nachusa, he served as assistant pastor of the First English Lutheran church in Decatur. Early this year, with his family, he returned to Germany for a visit.

The Thank-Offering which will be received, will be channelled to Evangelical United Brethren mission fields in a dozen areas of the world. The public is invited.

LEGAL NOTICE

The Department of Public Health and the Department of Public Works and Buildings, Division of Waterways, have been authorized to make certain studies as follows:

1. To study drainage and storm water conditions throughout Cook County, and the health and safety problems engendered thereby;
2. To study the present laws relating to drainage and storm water with a view toward clarifying, improving and codifying the same;
3. To prepare proposed drafts for legislation to remedy drainage and storm water problems.

In pursuance of these studies, the two agencies will hold a public hearing at Carbondale, Illinois in the Studio Theater (Room 28), University School, located at the Northwest Corner of the Southern University campus, at 10:00 a.m., C.S.T., on Tuesday, November 10, 1953, for the purpose of securing the views and desires of interested parties in Madison, Bond, Marion, Clay, Richland, Lawrence and all counties lying southward thereof on these matters.

These studies are being made pursuant to the authorization of the Governor of Illinois. The expressions of local interests are necessary to define the location, nature, scope and problems connected with drainage and storm water conditions. Attention is called to the fact that the term "drainage and storm water," as used herein, is construed to apply only to problems of handling and disposing of surface runoff from urban or developed areas, as distinguished from agricultural drainage. All interested parties are invited to be present or to be represented at the above time and place, particularly officials of any county, city, town, or local association whose interests may be affected by any measures proposed. All present will be given full opportunity to express their views and desires and to present such data as they care to submit with respect to the drainage and storm water conditions in their community.

Oral statements will be heard but, for the accuracy of the record, all important facts and arguments should be presented in writing. A record of the hearing will accompany the report of the agencies to the 68th General Assembly. Written statements may be submitted at the hearing or mailed to the Chief Engineer, Division of Waterways, 291 West Monroe Street, Springfield, beforehand.

You are requested to communicate the foregoing to any person or persons known to be interested in these matters, and who, not being known to this office, might not receive a copy of this notice.
